ANNUAL STAFF CAPTURES MEMORIES

The Annual Staff of 1987 consists of thirteen hardworking, creative individuals who work together as a team. The Editor-in-Chief, James Cobb, with three years experience, acted as a guiding leader to create the best yearbook our school has ever had. The assistant editors, Susie Cosper, Stacy Lackey, Chris Wallingsford, and Barry Williams, contributed their various skills and new ideas. The Annual Staff, as a whole, was able to expand the yearbook by adding more exciting photographs, informative articles, and many innovative ideas.

Many people do not realize the time, thought, and planning that goes into each page of the yearbook. The Annual Staff has many difficult deadlines to meet, which takes extra dedication and hard work. But a sense of accomplishment and satisfaction comes in knowing that this year's yearbook will be appreciated by many for years to come.

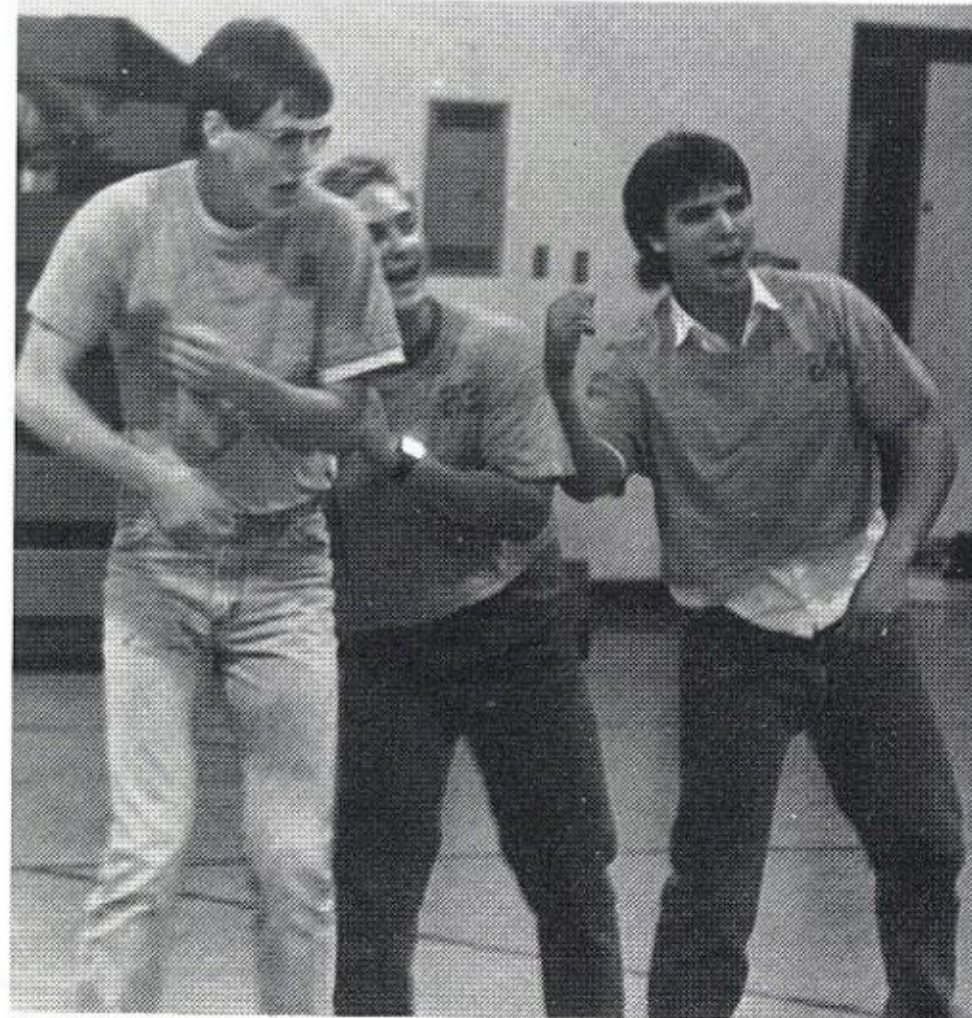

- A. The '87 Eagle staff are from top to bottom Doug Hill, Barry Williams, Marty Jo Cosper, Stacy Lackey, Susie Cosper, Tasha Bollinger, Marty Lewin, Shawn Johnston, Marci Bonner, Mandi Berry, Chris Wallingsford, and James Cobb, editor-in-chief.
 B. Annual staff members learn to create pages for the yearbook.
 C. James Cobb reaches new heights.

ENTER THE "FUN ZONE"

Everybody has a good side, whether it be the left, right, front, or back. However, the best and most common side in Salado High is the FUN SIDE!!! Throughout the year, we have seen examples of students' fun sides.

People have fun in many different ways. You've got your football players that make total fools of themselves to build up spirit. You've got swingers that are always smiling. You've got your ice cream eaters that seem to never let you down. You've got your weirdos, and those who don't know what they are actually doing, dressing up like the opposite sex. You've got your clowns that have permanent happy faces. Then you always have somebody that will turn up his nose even when he is having fun. You've got your people who like to look "studly" and then the ones who have so much fun, they act childish. All of these factors make up the fun side of Salado High School.

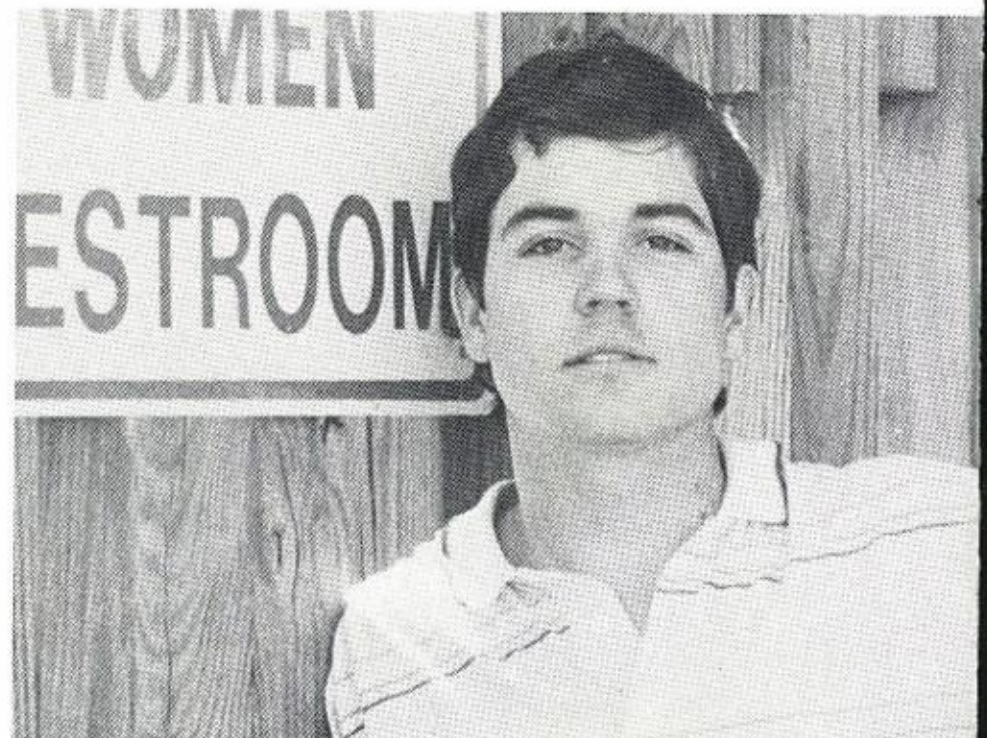

A. Chris Grigsby, Rollin Pierce, James Cobb, and Arthur Dawkins lead "GO GO"

C. Mr. Lea Ann Lowery admires Miss James Cobb and Miss Doug Hill's beautiful legs.

B. Shawn Morris gives his best attempt to pick up guys.

D. Joe Arnold waits to pick up "chicks."

 I. Melissa Del Toro displays her actual age.

STUDENTS CAUGHT IN THOUGHT

"Ann Bradstreet was the first American poet to publish a book. She was also the first woman to . . ." This class is so boring. I don't see how anybody could be interested in poetry. I have better things to do. Oh that reminds me, I have to stop by the store today after school and pick up my pictures, go by the bank, go home to take a shower, and get changed. I hate this shirt; I'll wear my red shirt to the game. I wonder what we are going to do this weekend; maybe Tasha and Stacy will think of something. I forgot my lunch today and Tania and I will have to eat in the lunchroom. I can't wait 'til . . . "Zoe, why don't you tell us what Ann Bradstreet contributed to our country. Zoe!! Zoe!!" "Oh, um . . ."

A. Marci Bonner is lost in space.
B. Cliff Coleman, Robby Jett, and Chris Wallingsford listen closely to a question in a make-believe gubernatorial debate.

C. Karen Swierc gives her "I think not" look.
D. Paula Davis wonders if class will ever end.
E. Tania Hanline reads from Popular Mechanics.

F. Brandon McCallum gives his best "GQ" look.
G. Russell Culver, Jack Wilson, and Rusty Jackson are studying to become future homemakers of America.

SPIRIT AT ITS PEAK

A unique combination of pride, dedication, and school spirit represents the student body's attitude toward the activities that the student body participates in.

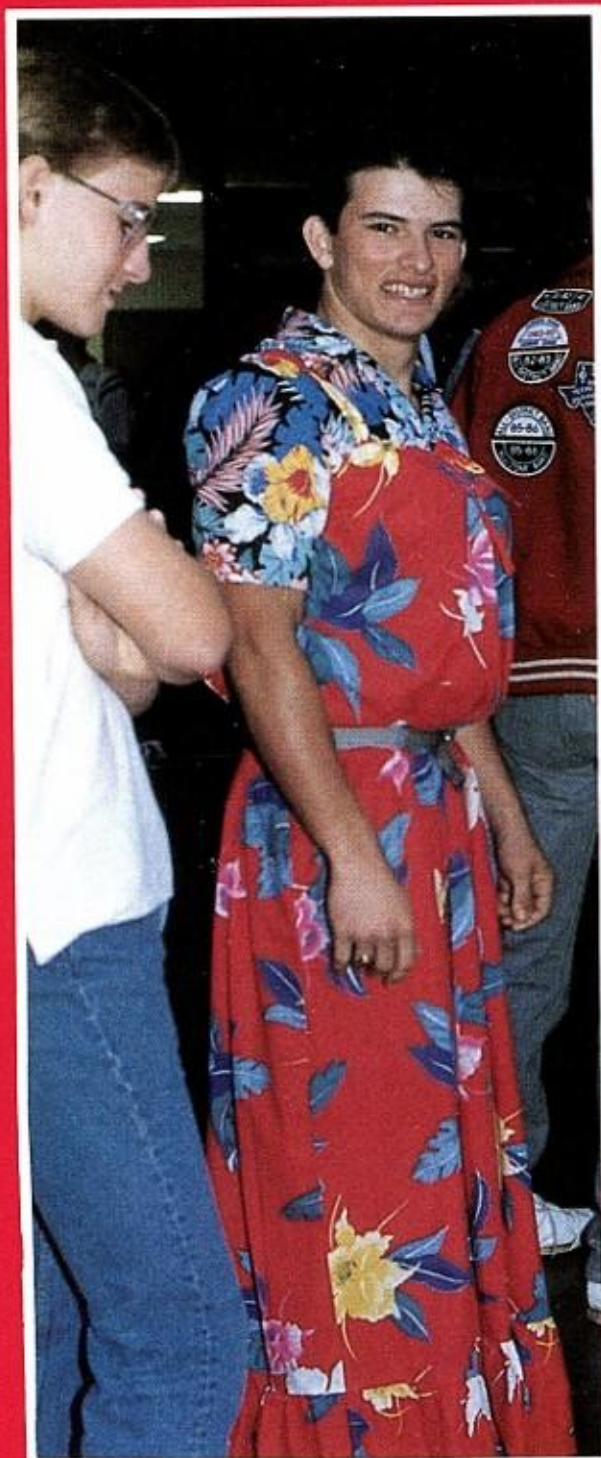

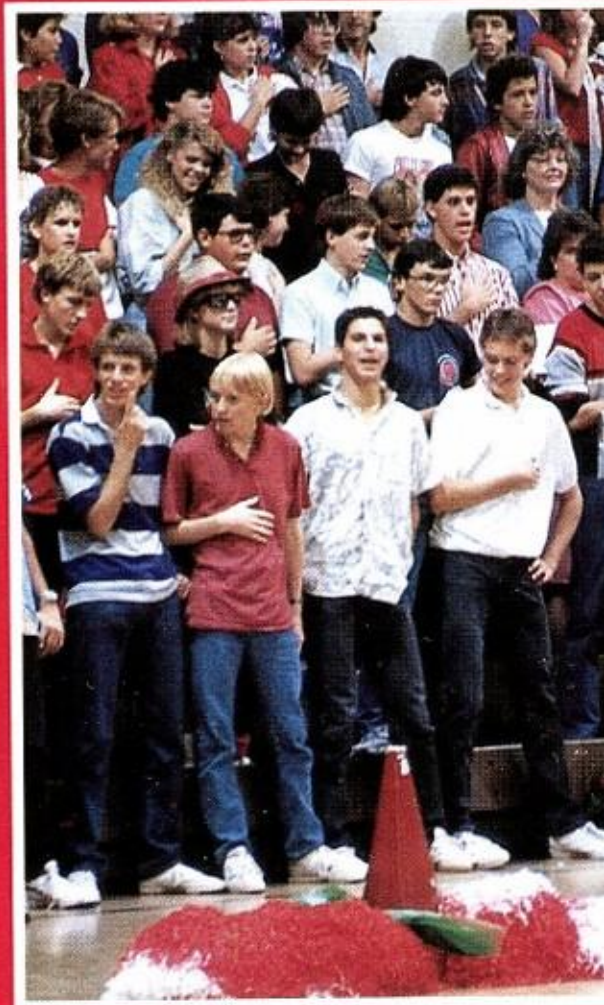

Attending pep rallies, gathering wood for the bonfire, and looking on as our 1987 Homecoming Queen, Sheri White-ly, was crowned were only a few things the student body took part in.

The tradition of Homecoming continued. Each day had a designated theme. Student Council selected the winners of each day and each winner was awarded a free pass to the Homecoming Dance.

Homecoming week was a time of togetherness with old and new friends. We all created homecoming memories together and these memories will never be forgotten.

THAT'S WHAT FRIENDS ARE FOR.

You have it all set up with a bunch of friends. Next weekend, you are all going to catch the best and funniest movie of the year. But when the weekend comes, you have no money. You can't tell your friends in fear that they might think you are poor and reject you. You can't ask your parents because they will lecture and you'll never hear the end of it. What are you going to do?

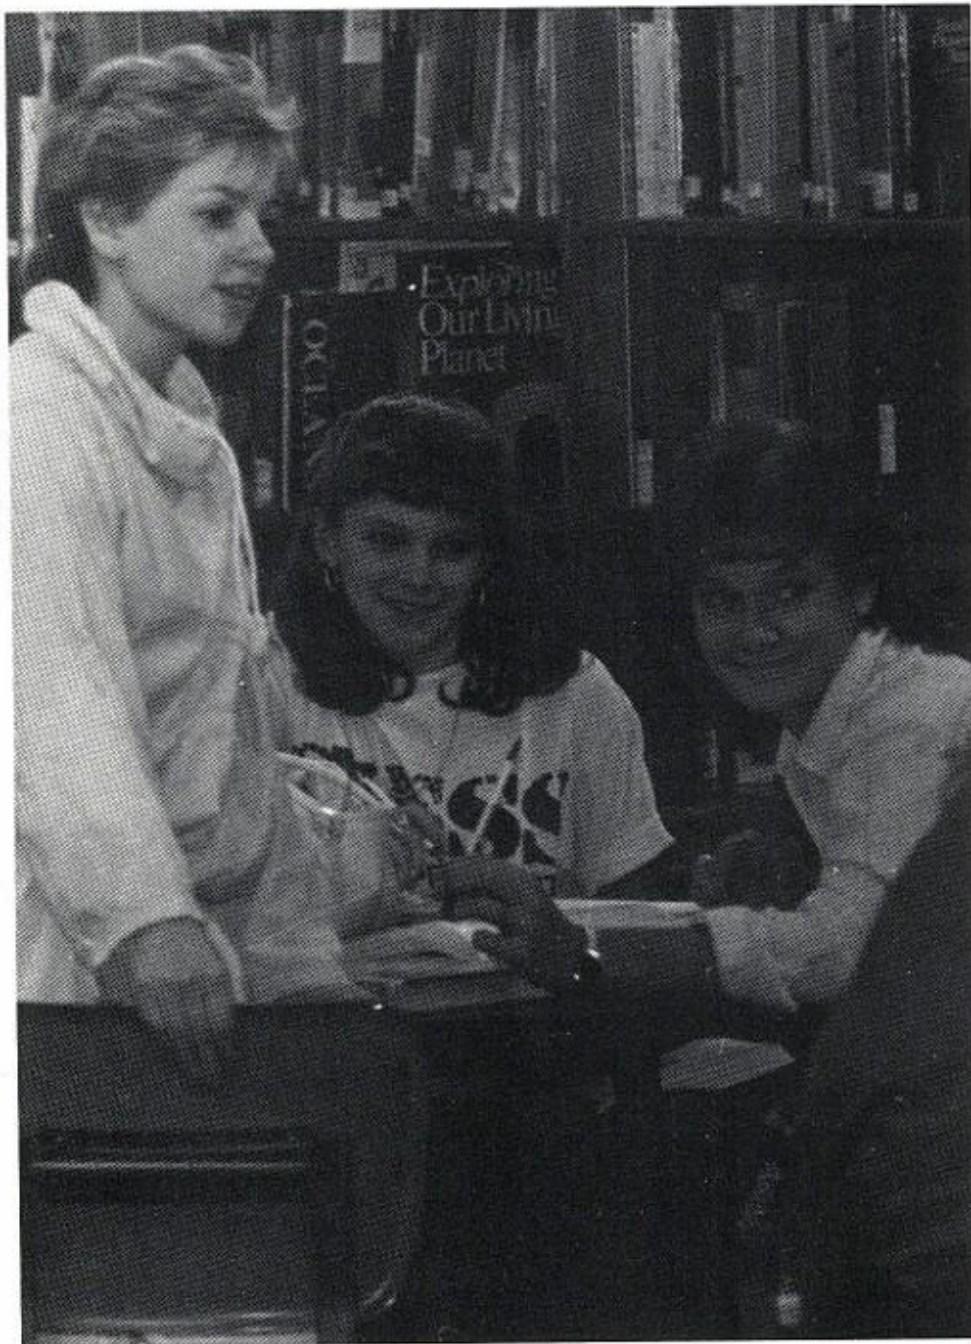

Shawn Melber, a sophomore, said he would "borrow" Clifford Coleman's M-Bank card. Arthur Dawkins, a senior, said he would tell his friends that visitors were coming. Patrick Sloan, 8th grade, said he'd go ahead and ask his mom. Jason Oldham, 8th grade, said he'd bum money off his friends and tell them he'd pay them back.

Most people would ask their parents. What about you!

LIVING IN A "MATERIAL" WORLD

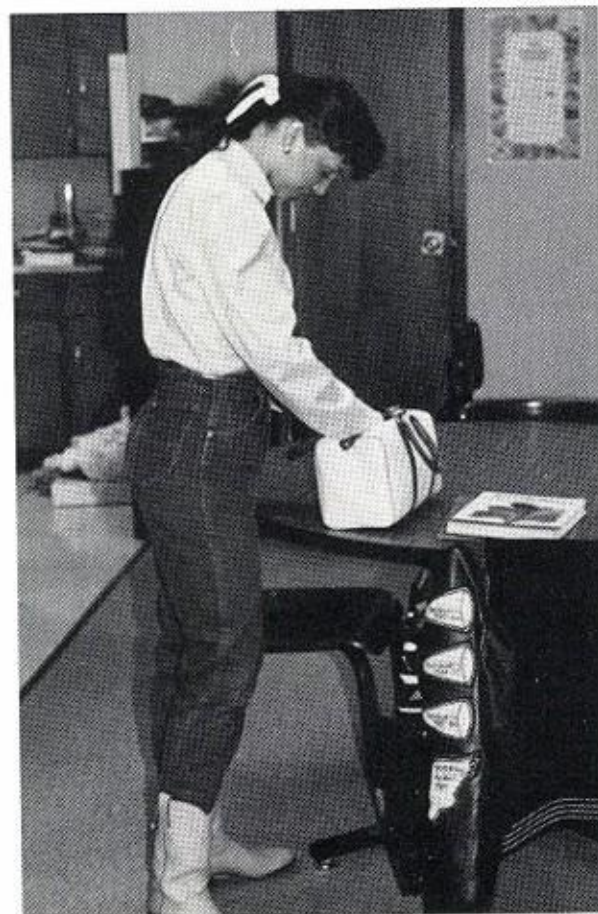

Fads and fashions come and go from year to year. Current popular styles include Guess everything (watches, jeans, shirts, socks, and even underwear). The tops in shirts are Coca-Cola, Mickey Mouse, Corona, and Concho shirts accented with studs, rhinestones, and colorful beads. 501 jeans are still hip in a rainbow of colors. Flat tops and "the Boz" are the popular hairstyles with the guys, while the girls favor "bobs" with complimentary bows. And everyone in a trench coat think he's as "cool" as Humphrey Bogart or Mike Hammer.

TEACHERS MAKE OUR FUTURES SO BRIGHT,

Teachers are often stereotyped as "sub-human" creatures with no feelings, but we all know that they're concerned with the welfare of our future. Whether they teach algebra, English, or home economics, teachers seem to have one thing in common . . . Preparing young adults for a bright future.

Though our teachers have some unusual habits and aren't always found doing their job, we are all thankful for their abundance of knowledge that they share with us. We will always remember their kind, and sincere support that they have given us throughout our lives.

ADMINISTRATION

BOARD MEMBERS AND SUPERINTENDENT WORK TOGETHER

The responsibilities of home, community, and the world must be accepted and borne by the students of today. You as students, must be ready, willing, and able to accept every challenge and the responsibilities of a new and different world. As you have progressed in life and education, I am grateful to have shared in this learning process. Education is not just preparation for life in the future but an experience in living. The ultimate goal of your public school education, however, is to prepare you for the future. I wish for each of you success and happiness in the years to come. May God bless you.

PRINCIPALS DEDICATE LIVES TO SCHOOL

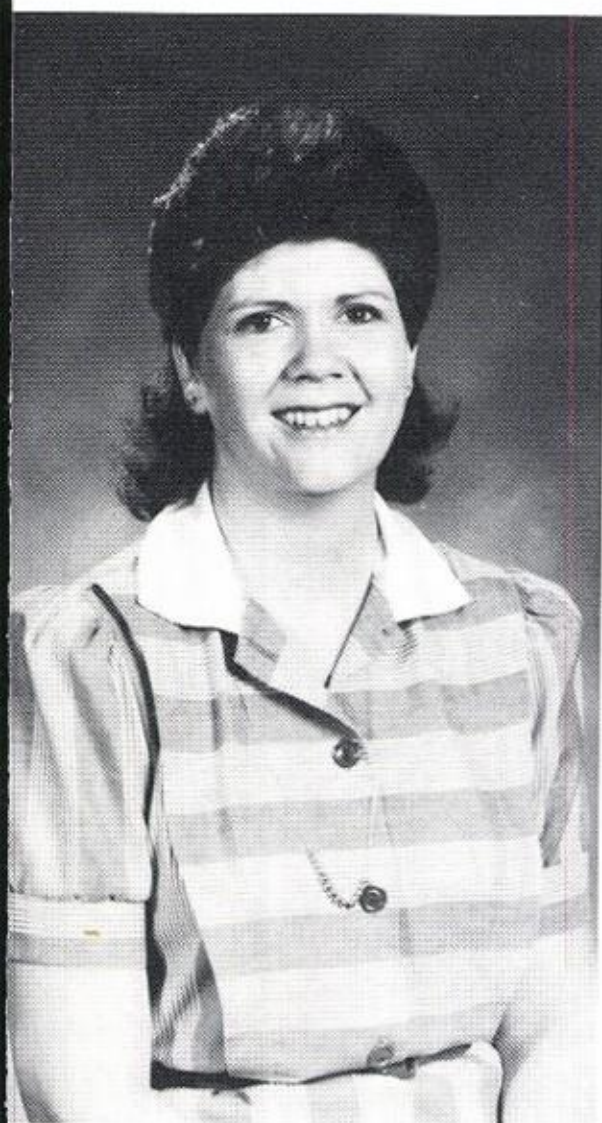

Everyone I have spoken with this spring has said the same thing. All have said, "This year has gone so fast!"

For those that will return to Salado for the 1987-88 school year, we look forward to helping you realize your goals.

For those of you that have graduated, our best wishes and hopes go with you.

God bless you and be careful out there!

ATHLETICS

EAGLES PLAGUED BY ADVANCEMENT

The 1986 Salado Eagle Varsity Football team struggled to a disappointing 3-7 season. Plagued by not only the advancement in classification, but also various injuries were largely responsible for the crippling of the Eagle offense. Donnie Jackson, the most promising of all the Eagle runningbacks, was disabled for the majority of the season by a badly pulled hamstring muscle. Other players who were unable to finish the season in its entirety were Doug Hill, Russell Culver, and Gaylon Evans.

In spite of the many adversities that the Eagles had to face, they held their heads high with pride and were able to clinch decisive victories over Thrall, Holland, and Florence. The highlight of the season came on October 24, 1986, when the Salado Eagles soared to a 35-0 victory over the Florence Buffaloes. The victory capped off, in extraordinary fashion, the festivities and excitement of the "Homecoming '86" week.

There were numerous standouts on the Eagle roster including 1st Team All-District players David King, Will Blackwell, Rollin Pierce, and Brent McCallum. The coaches and the players were proud of the efforts of the team as a whole and are eagerly looking forward to a more prosperous year in 1987.

BABY EAGLES FLYING HIGH

The Salado Eagle Jr. High Football Team cruised to a high flying 5-4 season. The players fought hard for their victories and displayed a great amount of pride and dignity during their losses. Coach Salyer commented, "They showed promise for upcoming years."

A. Graciano Berumen cuts upfield to take on the opposing players.

JV EXHIBITS YOUNG, RAW TALENT

The Junior Varsity football team had a successful year. The team, which was led by seven juniors, won 6 games. Most of the games were won by a very narrow margin, usually obtained during the last quarter.

Much of the Junior Varsity's success was due to the scrimmages in practice with the varsity. This, combined with the fine coaching talent of Dan Decker and Joel Salyer helped the young players with raw talent, have a successful year.

EAGLES SURPRISE DISTRICT 25AA

If it were possible to describe the Salado Eagle Varsity Basketball team in a single thought it would be "surprising." Picked as last place in District 25AA, the Eagle team defeated the odds and proved the critics wrong. Under the leadership of new head coach, Joel Salyer, the Eagles finished in third place, just one game out of a district playoff game with the second place Academy team. The Eagles also had all five starters named on the All District Roster. 1st team—Senior, Chris Wallingsford. 2nd team—Junior, Alan Haire; Honorable Mention—Seniors, Brent McCallum and Clifford Coleman and Freshman, Bubba Whiteley.

JV GIRLS STRIVE FOR TEAMWORK

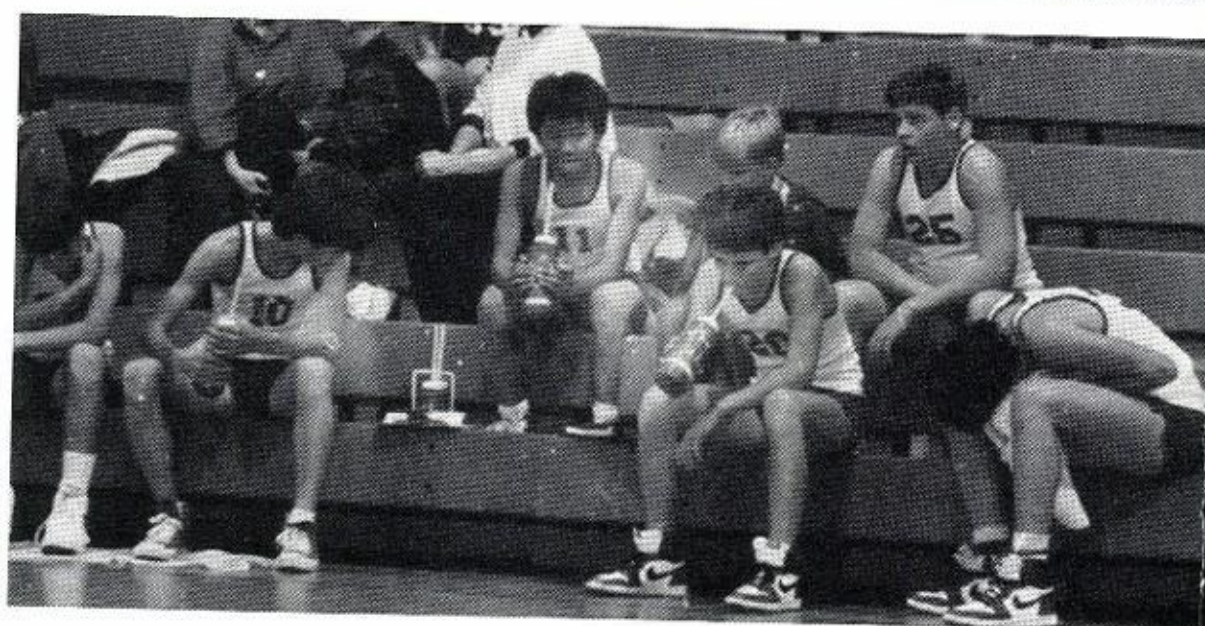

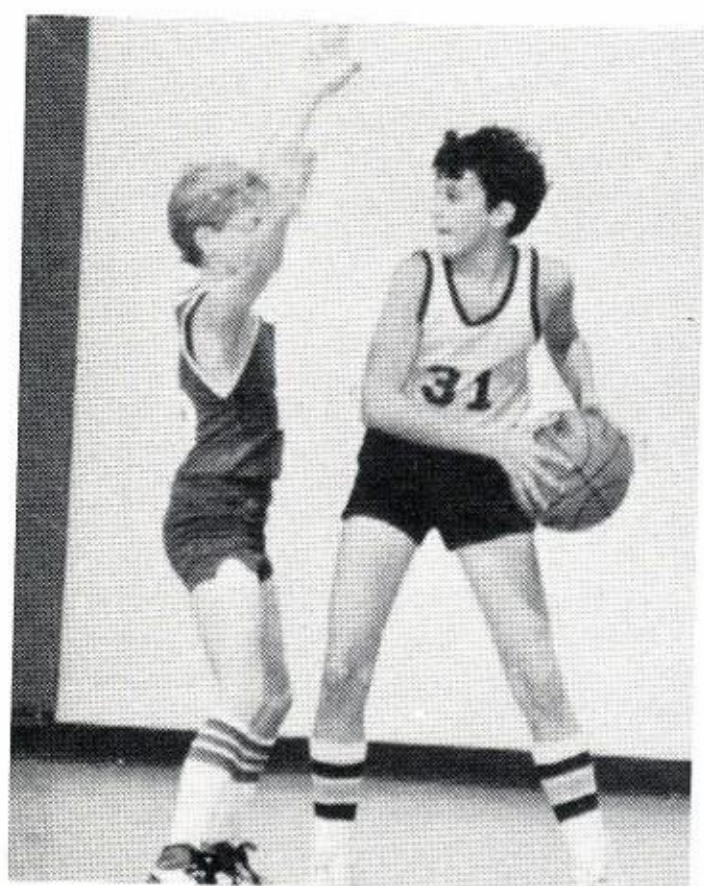

The 1986-87 JV Girls Basketball Team had a successful season even though the record of 1-4 doesn't present success. The team's losses were upsets; however, hardwork and determination overcame the losses. The team consisted of eight freshmen, three sophomores and two juniors. The team worked in each new player to create a variety of talent. The move to 2A became too much of a challenge. The teams record was: Salado 24; Liberty Hill 25; Salado 26; Troy 49; Salado 20; Academy 29; Salado 34; Florence 31.

TENNIS TEAM FORMED AFTER FIVE YEARS

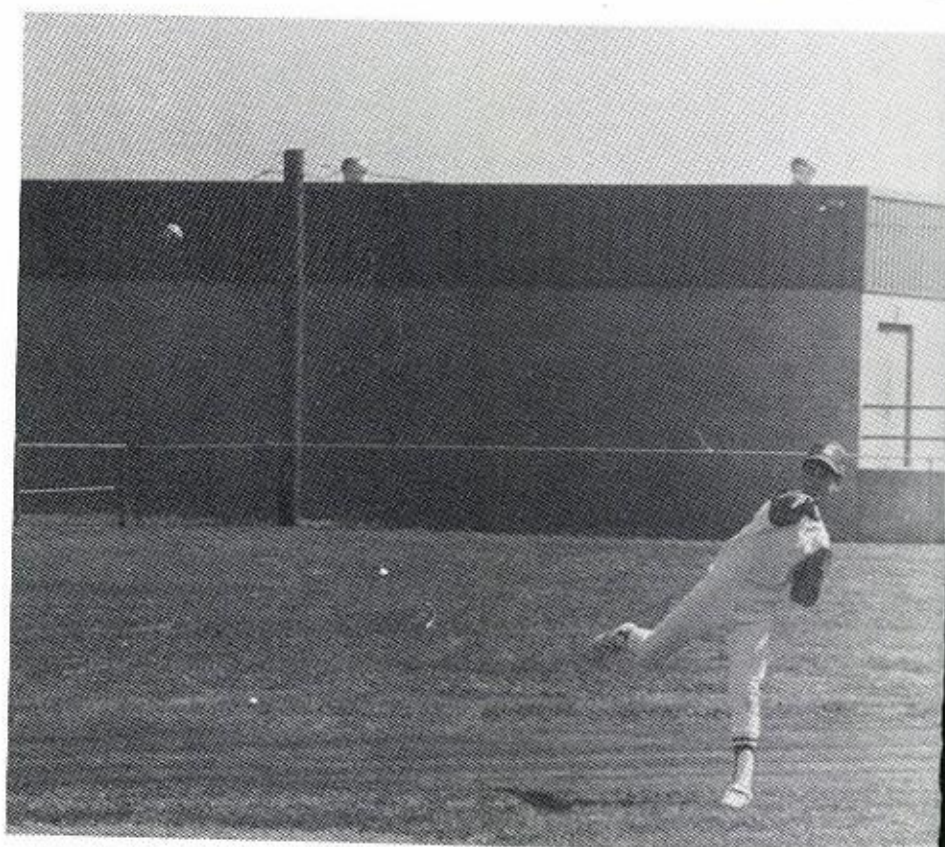

The 1987 Tennis Team was a learning experience this year for the coach as well as for the participants. Mrs. Martinez took time out of her schedule this year to begin a tennis team, which we haven't had in five years. Students had a real interest in the sport, and it showed as the season progressed. Several players participated in the District meet with only seven advancing to continue in the second day of the District meet. Those that advanced in the Varsity division were Brent McCallum—singles, Meredith Brown—singles, and Tania Hanline—singles. Those advancing in the JV division were Jennifer Taylor—singles, Jenny Lowery—singles, and Susie Coper and Lisa Fulford—doubles. Brent McCallum received first in district, Meredith Brown received second, and Tania Hanline received third. All of these Varsity players advanced to the regional meet which was held on April 29 and 30. In the JV division, Jennifer Taylor received third, Jenny Lowery received fourth, and Susie Coper and Lisa Fulford received second in the doubles division. JV girls came out a great success by winning second in District over all.

FCA GETS SPIRITS IN SHAPE

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is a nondenominational, junior-high through senior-high, nationally founded organization that develops friendships and provides activities for fellowship to Christian athletes. The FCA organization is not just for athletes though, it is for anyone wishing to get their "spirits in shape". The Salado Chapter of FCA meets semi-regularly on Fridays during lunch and occasionally have "night meetings". However, the most notable feature of the FCA is their school newspaper, the Eagle Enquirer. The newspaper features articles on school events, a creative page, and spotlights a Christian athlete.

BANDS HARD WORK PAYS-OFF...

The 1986-87 Salado Eagle Band saw their hard work pay off. The payoff started with the Eagle Band's first Division One ever. Several band members tried out for all-region symphonic band and five made the all-region concert band. Stacha Schiller made the all-area band after getting first chair at All-Region. At Solo and Ensemble contest in Temple, 9 solos made First Divisions and went on to state, while two other solos that were not eligible for state also made First Divisions. A clarinet trio and a saxophone quartet that were not eligible for state made "first." The medium ensemble also went to state. Thirty-two of our band members performed in the IA-IIA honor band, held in Mexia. The band traveled to Mexia for concert contest on April 23.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS

The hard work and dedication from the junior class made the Junior-Senior Prom a great success. The evening began by having pictures taken by "Cadillac" and was immediately followed by the banquet which was catered by Shanagan's of Killeen.

Barry Williams, president of the Junior class, welcomed everyone and thanked them for attending the prom. Response was presented by Brent McCallum, president of the Senior class. The banquet was completed with the reading of the Prophecies which were read by Shawn Johnston and Marci Bonner, and the Wills which were read by Seniors Doug Hill and James Cobb. As the evening ended, the Juniors and Seniors realized that they would "Never Say Good-Bye."

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1987

We, the Senior Class of Salado High School, being of sound mind and body do declare this to be our last will and testament.

I, Stephanie Moore, will Chris Reidmiller, James Williamson, and Robby Norwood a lifetime membership to a Chinese Laundry so they will not have to struggle through the difficult task of measuring the bleach before putting their clothes in the washer.

I also leave Stacha Schiller my bowling average to use as her golf score so that she can be Gold Medalist at state. I will also throw in the cartoon character of her choice (with the exception of Ziggy) to be her caddy.

To Lee Ann Lowery, I leave a year's free telephone calls so she can start her own "Community Help Service," "Overachievers Anon."

To Mary Bentley, I leave an all-purpose crown (extra large, of course), so that no one will ever have to try to fill it.

For two Juniors, who shall remain nameless, I will an operation to have them unjoined at the hip. You know who you are, girls.

To Shawn Johnston, her own jewelry shop, specializing in silver, of course, to be called, "You Can Have a Heart, Too."

I, Donnie Dawkins, will Steven Gilmore my cowboy boots and all my country and western tapes.

I, Danny Lorenz, will Steven Gilmore a pair of clean football socks.

I, James Cobb, will Alan Haire my '67 Ford Galaxy 500 with an awesome straight six so he will have something decent to drive.

I, Doug Hill, will Chris Grigsby my car if in return he will give my son his car for further enjoyment.

I, James Cobb, will Curtis Trompler a conservative tie to work in.

I, Kelly Kinsey, will Kevin Cosper a pocket dictionary so he can write a note with a few words spelled correctly. Tasha Bollinger and I will him a poster of the two of us together so he will have something to stare at after we are gone.

I, Kelly Kinsey, will Stacha Schiller my accent in Spanish and my ability to dissect a frog without crying. I leave Marie Brooks all my batons and my ability to never drop them! Ha! Ha!

We, Stacy Lackey and Kelly Kinsey, will Cindy Chandler and Teresa Gidley our sense of humor, smiles, and our ability to have fun.

I, Brent McCallum, will Mary Bentley my natural tan. I also will James Warren a new chauffeur to take him wherever he wants to go. To Alan Haire, I will the senior's attitude of "WE DON'T CARE" so he won't always be asking people if he looks O.K. By the way, Alan, you look all right tonight!

I, Stephanie Moore, will Donnie Gerhart all my speech abilities for next year.

I, Chris Wallingsford, will James Warren my height and my jump shot for basketball next year.

I, Clifford Coleman, will Mrs. Kinsey 11 cases of Kleenex even though I know I've used more than that during my four years as her student.

I, Jonie Walker, will Stacha Schiller my 1983 burgandy Escort so she will have her OWN car to drive to school her senior year.

I, David King, will Todd Sloan all my empty snuff cans.

I, Donnie Jackson, will Bill Curb a clear conscience so he won't be so paranoid every time his name is mentioned in a conversation. To Kevin Cosper, I will the ability to smile and control his temper—even when someone just says hi!

I, Paula Davis, will Larry Lum the responsibility to be present and ready to give a speech the day it is due.

I, Doug Hill, will Mandi Berry the logic to figure out how Snoopy can be on her folder, her wall, her watch, and on TV at the same time.

I, Clifford Coleman, will James Warren the ability to at least swing at the third strike. I will Brent Beckham my sense of humor and my ability to laugh. I leave Steven Gilmore some white bread.

I, Arthur Dawkins, will Stacha Schiller my love—for Chemistry. I will Rollin Pierce my ability to talk back to angry hotel managers.

I, Mary Jackson, will my darling brother, Brent Beckham the ability to stop beating up on people and start showing emotion so everyone will stop calling him "Gooch."

I, Loretta Shelton, will Tania Hanline my ability to have long hair without being short on the sides. I also leave Lisa Fulford the ability to go over the hurdles without bruising her legs.

We, Will Blackwell and Alex Gearhart, will Barry Williams the ability to hear how good he is as opposed to always saying it.

We, the Senior Football Team, will "Gooch" (Brent Beckham) a "Dot-to-Dot" play book so he will know at least one play for next year.

I, Marty Cosper, will my leg strength to Shawn Johnston so she can land with both legs underneath her when she jumps.

I, Joe Arnold, will Rusty Jackson the ability to keep his cool when Marie talks to other guys.

I, Robby Jett, leave $10 to Joe Shuler for a haircut.

I, Alex Gearhart, will Bill Curb the maturity that he desperately needs.

I, Gaylon Evans, will Bill Curb the ability to leave alone what does not concern him. To Brent Beckham I leave these immortal words, "DON'T PULL!!!"

I, Pam Wright, will Stacha Schiller my senior attitude toward golf (teed-off), also leave Jana Kirchmeier my eyes so when she smiles for a picture she will be able to see the cameraman.

I, Becky O'Banon, will Marci Bonner the ability to get along with Ty Taggart and also some of my height so she will be capable of seeing over the steering wheel instead of through the middle. I leave Marrion Daniel and Donnie Gerhart a year's supply of correction tape and typing paper.

I, Stephanie Gilliam, will Lee Ann Lowery an all expense paid trip to UMHB so she can finally visit "you know who."

We, the Senior Class, will Todd Sloan $10 so he can go to a real barber.

I, Tasha Bollinger, will Teresa McCloud a year's supply of Sunkist oranges. I will Tania Hanline a bowl of gravy and a REAL monopoly game to keep her and Steven Gilmore busy. To Bill Curb, I will a blanket so maybe he won't be so insecure and also so courtesy for his future dates.

I, Russell Culver, will Tania Hanline and Steven Gilmore a year's supply of monopoly money because, for some odd reason they keep losing it.

I, James Cobb, will Barry Williams the height of 10'11" so his height will be proportional to the size of his mouth.

I, James Cobb, will Marrion Daniel, a larger fish bowl.

I, James Cobb, will Rollin Pierce the ability to take corners at high speeds.

I, James Cobb, will Marty Lewin all my brownie points in Mrs. Fiebig's class so he can make it through Journalism next year.

I, Stacy Lackey, will Rollin Pierce my enormous muscles and my unbelievable strength.

I, Stacy Lackey, will Jana Kirchmeier my responsibility and punctuality since she is always late for everything.

We, Clifford Coleman and Karen Swierc, will Robby Norwood $50 for winning first place in the Danny Jackson Look-alike contest.

We, the seniors in the Trig/Pre-Cal Class, will Scott Taylor . . . nothing.

I, Karen Swierc, will Wendy Hojnacki the ability to be in track and actually participate in the workouts during the whole season. To Alan Haire, I will Chris Johnson to take my place as his lunch buddy for next year. And finally to Scott Taylor, Larry, and Curtis, I will 10 free basketball lessons because I know how much they would love to learn how to play the game.

I, Robby Jett, will Chris Roper all my gold chains and my fashionable attire. To Bill Curb, I will my ability to be myself and to accept it when a girl tells him no. I also will Joe Schuler my awesome computer talent.

I, Sheri Whiteley, will Shawn Johnston and Mandi Berry my loud voice and strong back for cheerleading next year.

I, Kim Conner, will Marci Bonner all my absentee excuses which were passed down to me by her sister, Jackie.

I, Derel Chick, will Jack Wilson my three chest hairs and the peach fuzz on my face so he will have some for his senior year. To Kevin "Zambowie" Cosper I will "All State Joe's" lucky football shoes so he will have a chance to make all districts next year. Last, but not least, I will him some tranquilizers because after he hears that he will want to kill me.

I, Carmen Berumen, will Adam Martinez my ability to spell.

I, Shana Liveley, will Bryan Smith my ability to keep up with papers, books, and keep a clean, neat locker.

This Will and Testament is subscribed by me on the eleventh day of April, 1987, at Salado, Texas.

Salado High School Class of 1987

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Five years from now, we see Joe Arnold has been married to and divorced from five different girls, each marriage containing the same wedding ring. Joe did make it in professional rodeo, not as a bull rider, but as a bull-fighter . . . clown that is.

We find Carmen Beruman still working in DQ to support her husband, Alonzo, and their child, Alex Alonzo the III.

Bill Blackwell went to school several years before he decided what he wanted to do, but finally became a nose surgeon specializing in athletic injuries resulting from being hit with a baseball.

Natasha Bollinger has taken up bodybuilding along with her husband from Germany. She has finally learned how to drive a car and has become a lady cab driver in New York City. Her sons, Elmer and Fud are exotic dancers at Amnesia, Natasha's favorite dance spot.

Derel Chick goes to UT and gets a doctor's degree in Chemistry. He develops a new synthetic fish frying grease that doesn't explode when put out with water. Derel is so proud of himself that he tried it out in the lab. Unfortunately, his new discovery is a joke and once again he had to be taken to the hospital for 3rd degree burns.

James Cobb was reported as taking an eagle, a cool cat like Alex Gearhart, a wild and crazy guy like Doug Hill, and a demented little boy like Derel Chick, a gym locker full of philosophical stale gym socks and unused odor eaters and brought forth a new comic strip known as "Cobb County."

Clifford Coleman is attending Texas A&M where he flunks out because he spent all his time "elaborating" in class. We now find Clifford on Channel 25 at 5:00 in the morning expressing his political opinions and stating that "Cliff STILL Cares!"

Twelve years from now we find Russell Culver still in college trying to become the architect that he has always dreamed of being. But, Russell never learned that being in class is a clown and having Rambo as his hero can't help make his dream come true.

Five years from now, we find Marty Cosper, now Marty Watkins, following her husband throughout the world with her newborn triplets. Marty is having a hard time finding time between her triplets, Jackie's gigs, and being Manager of the local IGA. She is also enrolled in a Homemaking course because Ms. Bray never got around to teaching her how to make gravy.

Paula Davis and her husband Kenny have just celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary. They have three little Kenny's running around the house and Paula spends her spare time doing Chemistry experiments to find a way to make the boys less temper. Unfortunately, the boys took her Chemistry talents and have blown up three different houses on their own.

Seven years from now we find Arthur Dawkins living in a quiet mountain town in Southern Tennessee. He is married to a loyal warm woman from Kentucky and has two boys, both of which are pigeon-toed. He recently published his first play, the sequel to "Pigmalion." He also writes literary reviews for the New York Times and The Saturday Review. He writes under the pen name, "Yogi," remaining unknown to the public.

After graduating from the Police Academy, Donnie Dawkins fulfilled his life-long dream of becoming a Highway patrolman, but he soon decided that this kind of life is too rough. He got a job as a Salado cop, the only Salado cop. He now spends his working hours sleeping and chasing girls to open doors for them.

While going to college, Gaylon Evans discovered how good-looking he was and flunked out of college because he was dating girls and forgot to study.

Alex Gearhart has become a world famous guitar pick salesman and is often seen on TV with his great big grin saying, "This is a guitar pick!" He decided to join a rock band best known as the "AG Band", whose only hit was a remake of the old Willie Nelson tune "Blues Eyes Cryin' in the Rain." He also got the starring role in the new Broadway hit, "The Red-Headed Big Foot".

Ten years we see Kim Conner standing in the unemployment line. She has just lost her job at the Bubblicious Bubble Gum Factory where she got fired for chewing up the profits.

Five years from now, we find Brent McCallum happily married; not to one girl, but three. He couldn't decide who to marry: Jill, Meredith or Deanna, so he became a Mormon and married all three. But wait, there's another one . . . and another . . . and another . . . Well, you've got the picture.

After getting kicked out of several hospitals, for chasing all the other nurses, Dennis Haney is employed at Scott and White Memorial Hospital as a nurse and is coming with his good buddies, Marriion Daniel and John Puchi. He was almost put to death for tax evasion immediately after high school, but he had a woman judge who charmed his way out of the electric chair.

Shirley Moore is now a top actress in Hollywood and she has written a new book titled, "I'm Okay, Your Okay!"

Currently we find Becky O'Banon holding on to the record for the most appearances on "The Dating Game." Yet she still has not found the perfect mate. She has also become, after only four days, the manager of the DQ Inc. To make a little extra money she has put out a new line of designer jeans called "Beltbusters."

After warming the bench in basketball at S.H.S. John Puchi got red shirted at UT. After breaking all the records as the top scorer, he went on to play Pro Ball with the Houston Rockets.

After attending a very prestigious beauty school, Loretta Shelton decided that being beautiful was a drag, so she went back to school where she majored in Home Economics and has received the Homemaking Teacher Of The Year award 10 years running.

Fourteen years from now we find Karen Swierc "warming the bench" for A&M's basketball team. Her faithful High School Coach is still giving her advice and strenuous workouts, hoping that "if" she ever graduates, she'll become the next woman Globetrotter!

Scott Van Sienburg did not fulfill his dream of becoming a naval officer. Instead, we find him in Hollywood where he stars in the "New Little Rascals" as "Spanky."

Joni Walker is a beautician and happily married to Charles. They have four kids, two of them named Tim and Ricky.

After graduation, Chris Wallingsford enrolled in Bible School. However, he decided to drop out after a semester and formed his own Christian-Acid Rock Band, singing to Chemistry classes across the U.S.

Sheri Whiteley is another which we find in Hollywood, CA. There she has fulfilled many of her ambitions by starring in the hit television series "Sheri Mason." We regret to inform you, though, that Sheri was forced into early retirement; because one day while driving from a friend's house in San Francisco, she accidentally backed off the Golden Gate Bridge. She claimed, "I didn't see it!"

Pam Wright received a degree in Psychology from UT, specializing in dream meanings and talking in your sleep. She married a tall dark-headed man and they have six beautiful children.

Stephanie Gilliam decided to change her image a bit, so she had her legs shortened to match Todd's, who is now her devoted husband. She also had a voice transplant, but the doctor made a mistake and she now sounds like Orson Wells. She moonlights doing mouse sneezes for Walt Disney Productions.

Doug Hill turned 30 and finally decided to get serious with a girl. But looking around he discovered that it was too late, they were all taken.

Donnie Jackson finally healed from all of his High School football injuries and is at it again in the NFL. He has remained off the injured reserve list so far but is looking forward to next week's game against the Chicago Bears and William Perry. He still can't stand Rock music, but unfortunately his sons don't feel the same way and drive him out of the house every weekend.

Mary Jackson still hasn't discovered how pretty her freckles are because she can't find a knife strong enough to scrape off the make-up.

Robby Jett's girlfriend has left him because of excessive smoking habits and reckless driving. Beware, Robby is still on the road.

David King received a mechanical engineering degree from SMU, by working his way through college, being a male stripper. After getting his degree he decided he would rather be a dancer. So he is now a "Chippendale's man."

Kelly Kinsey entered the pre-med program at Texas Tech, but soon dropped out to become a professional Kinderchemist. In her lab, she developed a new formula that allows you to eat as much as you want without gaining weight. So far it has worked. She also moonlights as a stand-up comedian at the local hospital so that her years of pre-med experience would not go to waste.

Stacy Lackey has become a very successful solid gold dancer. However, she is working overtime at her favorite shopping center, Goodwill, so that she can put her husband, the President of Mexico, through school, Pre-school that is.

Shana Lively has grown up, but her height hasn't grown a bit. She is still identified with the teenage crowd, not because she is so short that no one knows she isn't a teenager, but because she is still trying to get rides to all the big concerts.

Mike Lopez now owns his own chain of Exxons, however, he still regrets quitting his job at Stagecoach and can still be seen begging for it back.

Danny Lorenz has now fulfilled his life-long dream of becoming a Private Investigator, just like Magnum P.I. His partner is Alex Gearhart, the business is doing well. However, on one of the assignments Alex accidentally handcuffed him and Danny together and lost the keys. So now Danny never has to worry if Alex is looking over his shoulder and can relax knowing that Alex will always be there wherever Danny goes.

You've heard a lot about the need to conserve electricity and all forms of energy. Not only does conservation help save our nation's precious energy resources, it helps you and your family save money since the cost of energy is a big chunk out of most families' budgets. You can help your family by doing your part... make sure you close doors and windows when the heating or air conditioning unit is on; don't "graze" when you raid the refrigerator - know what you want before you open the door; hot water takes energy - try a shorter shower; and make sure the television or stereo is off when you're through with it. Work with your family to save energy now... you'll help make sure there will be enough for everyone when you start a family of your own.
